The well-known Polyphia Society, the smartest musical organization in Washington, held its first meeting of the season, last evening in the ballroom of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth's home on Dupont Circle. The Polyphia is composed of the singers in smart society, and was organized by Mrs. Wadsworth, who is a most capable and accomplished singer. They have been under the direction of Mrs. Simon playing the accompaniments. Among the original members of the society are the Countess Cassini, adoptive daughter of the former Russian ambassador, the Baroness von Sternburg, and other equally distinguished women in the social world. Their plan each season is to give an evening of music during Eastertide, when society is invited to hear them sing, which is a real treat to music lovers. They meet once a week in the mornings, and after singing for an hour and a half have tea, chocolate, and wafers.

FATHER THOUGHT CHILD WOULD DIE

Suffered with Cuban Itch, and Sores
Covered Body from Head to Foot
—Would Claw Himself and Cry
All the Time—Could Not Be

Try the Cuticura Remedies.

CURED BY CUTICURA
AT EXPENSE OF 75c.

"My little boy in the Spring of 1901, when only an infant of three months, caught the Cuban Itch from one of my neighbor's babies. Sores broke out from his head to the bottom of his feet. He would claw himself and cry all the time. He could not sleep day or night. I had to wheel him in his carriage most all the while to keep him still. He could not bear to have his feet touched, and only a light dress in his hands. I can't begin to speak in words the suffering the poor child had to endure. I called one of our best doctors to treat him, but he said he had the Cuban Itch, and his treatment did not do any good. He seemed to get worse. He suffered so terribly that my husband said he believed he would have to give up hope almost given up hope when a lady friend told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. She said she cured her little girl's ear, which was nearly eaten up with the eczema. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and one box Cuticura Ointment, and I washed him all over with the Cuticura Soap and applied the Cuticura Ointment and he at once fell into a sleep, and he slept with ease for the first time since two months. When he awoke I applied it again, and it gave him entire relief. The treatment only cost me 75c, and I would have gladly paid $100 if I could not have got it any cheaper. I feel safe in saying that the Cuticura Remedies saved his life. He is now a boy of five years, and is as well as any child you ever saw. Mrs. Zana Miller, Union City, R. R. No. 1, Branch Co., Mich., May 17, 1906."

ONLY ONE BOY GIVEN BASSETT BY THE COURT

Chester Goes to Father, But Mother Retains Other Children.

OMAHA, Neb., March 4.—Judge Reddick this morning handed down his decision on the disposition of the Bassett children following the divorce suit between Charles C. Bassett, of Washington, and his wife, Fannie Rice Bassett. Chester, the youngest of the children which Bassett claimed was his, was awarded to Mr. Bassett. The four other children, including Lawrence, who was repudiated by Mr. Bassett, were given to Mrs. Bassett. Contrary to expectations, Mrs. Bassett did not make a scene when the boy Chester was given to his father. On the other hand, both of the boys, who were in court, wept loudly.

Mr. Bassett will leave Chester with the mother until he finds a home for him. This afternoon Mrs. Bassett's lawyers will ask the court for an injunction preventing Mr. Bassett from interfering with the children the court awarded Mrs. Bassett. Bassett will return to Washington tonight. Mrs. Bassett will remain in Omaha for the present. Rec. Lawrence Hunt refuses to discuss his future movements.

ROBERT EMMET'S MEMORY HONORED

Enthusiasm prevailed last night in the Columbia Theater when a meeting was held commemorating the birthday of Robert Emmet, the noted Irish patriot. The meeting was under the auspices of the United Irish Societies, and was attended by an audience that completely filled the theater.

A feature of the meeting was an address of John Keating, of Chicago, who referred to the newly appointed British ambassador, James Bryce, as having included in his earlier editions of "The American Commonwealth" certain expressions reflecting on the Irish character, and which were eliminated from later publications of the work. Mr. Keating said Mr. Bryce "may come with honeyed words and finished diplomacy, but he can never cram down the throats of the American people, among whom are so many of Irish blood, a closer alliance with that rapacious power which has for so many years oppressed the brave men of Ireland and redoubled with their blood the soil of that land whose freedom has ever been their dearest dream."

As a result of Mr. Keating's and other similar addresses, resolutions were passed demanding freedom for Ireland and expressing faith in the future of the country.

Patrick T. Nolan also made a spirited speech, and there was a musical program, including Irish songs given by the Ladies' Irish Choir, who presented a most attractive appearance. Thomas McNulty gave a series of songs, and Miss Elizabeth A. Higgins sang several contralto solos. The proceeds will be given to the Sisters of Mercy, of St. Catherine's Home.

SPRING MILLINERY OPENING

Continued Tomorrow and Wednesday

The expressions of gratification and approval heard on all sides today by the admiring throng that constantly filled the Millinery Section was both pleasing and well merited. If you were unable to come today, be sure to get here tomorrow or Wednesday. No woman should allow anything to keep her away from a fashion show so important.

The present display is the most brilliant and beautiful we have ever known. Roses and flowers of the field form a fitting background for the vast collection of Trimmed Hats—a gathering which includes every whim of fashion. Side by side with the best ideas that Paris sends are the clever conceptions of our own artist-milliners, and they suffer not one whit by the comparison.

To this fashion show of springtime beauty and freshness—welcome.

Imported Model Suits, $29.75

Worth $50, $60 & $65

Because of poor advance spring business, due to protracted cold weather, Messrs. of Fifth Avenue, New York City, were compelled to sacrifice their stock of suits to meet pressing obligations. This firm of manufacturing tailors stands at the very head of the business as original, tasteful, and skillful designers—and ranks among the finest manufacturers in the country. These suits prove it. We wish to give emphasis to the fact that these are NEW SPRING SUITS—all brand-new 1907 models copied from the latest Paris styles.

The materials consist of imported chiffon voiles, chiffon Panamas, and wire voiles, in a variety of richly-tailored effects. Many are handsome enough and elaborate enough to be dignified by the title of costume.

Several include Eton Coats, made in styles reminiscent of coats with braids and fancy vests, others are finished off with self-color braids.

Some of the Voile Suits are elegantly tucked and trimmed with taffeta designs and embellished with silk gazon ornaments. Some of the Chiffon Voile Suits are made in the new Gibson plaited Eton models, trimmed with taffeta, and fancy collar and lace-trimmed vest.

Another model is richly trimmed with self-cloth designs, combined with wide insets of wood silk braid and fancy vest, ornamented with genuine riveted steel buttons. Finished with plaited taffeta girdles.

Skirts are the correct, new full-plaited models, cut very wide and full around the bottom, in several beautiful effects and various kinds of kilts and plaids.

In black, navy blue, and the fashionable pearl gray, champagne, &c.

Women's Tailored Suits, Worth $20.00, $10.98, $22.50 @ $25.
